Presbyterian Minister, in Atlanta.
Allowed to Resign.

CONFESSES SIN TO HIS WIFE

An Old Sweetheart Proved His Undoing—Departs From Georgia for His Father's Home in Arkansas—Presbytery Passed Resolutions.

(By Associated Press.)
ATLANTA, GA., Oct. 19.—Rev. Dr. C. P. Bridwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, the richest and most fashionable church in Atlanta, has been indefinitely suspended from the ministry following his confession to his wife and to the church of his intimacy with a married woman, an old sweetheart from Fort Worth, Tex. In a Boston hotel, this summer, he resigned his pastorate, and, with his wife, who forgave him, left for Arkansas, where the pastor's father lives.
The resolutions of suspension adopted by the Atlanta Presbytery follow:
"Whereas, Rev. C. P. Bridwell has been guilty of gross immorality, and a full confession of the same to the Presbytery, and
"Whereas, he has shown sincere repentance for the same and begs to be forgiven; therefore, be it
"Resolved, That the said Rev. C. P. Bridwell is hereby indefinitely suspended from the services of the office of the Gospel ministry, and that we commend him in much love and sympathy to the grace of God."

PORTO RICO'S BENEFACTOR.

Captain Ashford Cut Down Death Rate On Island.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Captain B. K. Ashford, the assistant surgeon of the army who has distinguished himself by lowering the death rate of the island of Porto Rico, has been appointed an honorary member of the Porto Rico anemia commission.

The officer was for several years on duty in the island, where, in connection with a representative of the marine hospital service and a native physician, he organized a means of preventing the spread of a dread disease which had been for years regarded as incurable.

The death rate of the island was enormous, and this has been most favorably affected by the work of the sanitary officers, who have established sub-stations without cost, and where native physicians receive instruction which is of the greatest value.

Captain Ashford had to live down much natural native prejudice, but he overcame this, and left the island recently loaded with honors. He took up a comparatively subordinate place in the usual routine of his professional duties as the assistant surgeon on duty at the Washington barracks, where he is spending some of his time in the preparation of his reports.

Captain Ashford was in doubt about accepting the honorary place on the commission since it might be regarded as a holding of another office, and by this means imperil his commission as a medical officer of the army. There has been a special interpretation of the law for his benefit, so that he may accept this honorary place, intended as a compliment; to him, and which carries with it no compensation.

TEMPEST RAGED FOR TEN DAYS

Salvadoran Warship Lost—Many Persons Killed.

SAN SALVADOR, Oct. 19.—A tempest has raged incessantly for ten days throughout the republic, flooding the rich valleys, principally that of Matagalpa, and resulting in great loss of life, and the destruction of cattle and crops.

The Salvadoran man-of-war Izalco was lost at Acapulco.

The topography of various departments has been changed, buildings have fallen, burying their tenants in the ruins and iron bridges over the principal rivers have been carried away. The aqueducts and electric light plants at Salvador and Sonsonat have suffered heavy losses.

The railroads, telegraphs and commerce are paralyzed, but traffic is being restored, in some towns of the Republic.

The rivers are bringing down the bodies of persons drowned in the storm and the carcasses of cattle and the sight of these tend to increase the terror of the people.

Schorr, a wealthy brewer and horseman, of Memphis, Tenn., and George Reardon, bookmaker and plunger, were married in the Church of St. Vincent de Paul, North Sixth street, Brooklyn, and thereby hangs a little romance, the like of which is mostly found in books and dreams.

Reardon met the young heiress two years ago at Latonia. He was poor, but proud, and set out to float on to fortune. Success came from the four quarters of the track, and pretty soon he asked the millionaire for his daughter. An engagement followed.

A few weeks ago Miss Schorr came to New York and visited her sweetheart's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Reardon, at Coney Island. The wedding was planned there as the date of it had not been named.

POLICE POWER AT HOSPITAL.

Articles of War Applies to Army Institutions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The new law recently authorized the senior military authority at the Army general hospital at Fort Bayard, N. M., to apply the articles of War and Army regulations to all the patients at that institution, which is by virtue of the climate of the country, beneficial to consumptives.

It is found necessary to send enlisted men of the Navy to the hospital and it frequently happens that both soldiers and sailors remain there under treatment after they have been discharged from the service.

The question recently came up what should be done in the way of maintaining discipline at the hospital, where, of course, rules could not be as rigidly applied as is the case in the service, where some account had to be taken of the disability of the people at the hospital.

Another question which has come up in connection with the new law is the method of punishment. Of course civilians, such as enlisted men who are discharged, cannot be tried by court martial. Altogether the question is rather a delicate one and the disciplinary measures will have to be limited to suspension or downright dismissal.

Action may be taken summarily by the authorities without recourse to court martial proceedings. Orders to this effect have been sent to Fort Bayard.
